HIGH SCHOOL

REGISTRATION

August twenty-third the doors of Bridgeport High School once again opened to admit over two hundred students for registering to a new year, full of work, fun and learning.

The Annual Staff dedicates the 1960 Bulldog to MR. VARLEY
in expression of our thanks for the many doors of knowledge he has opened to the students of Bridgeport High.

ADMINISTRATION

MR. WOOD

MR. STERUP

To Mr. Wood and Mr. Sterup—Your knowledge of life is incomparable. Your fairness and your willingness to help have gained you the admiration of the entire student body. You secured self confidence for many of us when things looked bad. Both of you are very prominent figures behind our doors of memories of B.H.S.

CLASS PARENTS

Mr. and Mrs. R. McKillip
Mr. and Mrs. H. Hinman

We learned through experience and profited by our failures. We passed through doors of Achievement, Enthusiasm, Cooperation, Learning, Entertainment, Competition, Friendship, Christian Spirit and the Spirit of B.H.S. The football season found us on top with the championship all ours, and one of the main events was the crowning of the royalty, along with the Homecoming parade and dance. We have traveled from Freshman parties to the Junior-Senior Prom, and finally to graduation. Our spirit has never altered. We maintained a firm hand on all the doors we met and passed through. But this has been merely the beginning. To carefree days we say goodbye, leaving with a feeling of mixed sorrow and joy for the years past and a feeling of joyful anticipation for the years to come. As we retain our faith in God, we shall not only open the doors to our own success, but we shall also help our fellowmen to open theirs. We look forward to our class reunion as we turn to open the door marked "Destiny."

Two years were behind us, two ahead of us. This has proved to be perhaps our most wonderful year so far. We worked for one goal—the Junior-Senior Prom, and it was worth every minute of work we spent on it. The doors that confronted us were more easily opened as we were inspired by the spirit of guidance our teachers and parents expressed, and we thank them for it. One more year to go, and along with it unknown and unexamined doors for us to open, examine and know.

Vacation ended, school began. The same routine as last year, except that now we were a little more adept at pushing open the more heavy and difficult doors. We had learned by this time that the doors "Determination" and "Aggressiveness" are the doors to our success. We cheered, threw baskets, kicked the football—and studied —with the best of them. We're well on our way. No door, however large it looms, can stop us now.

Bewildered we entered into a New World. As Freshmen, we looked forward to life at B.H.S. with spirit. Our personal world grew larger as we tackled the doors held up to us by our teachers and fellow students. We anticipated the doors that lay before us then, and the future looked bright. Our first step is completed, the Door of Success is being opened.

THE SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

Until his death some months ago, I, Joan Robertson, was executive secretary to the fabulously wealthy Janson Arthur Smyth-Winters. Mr. Smyth-Winters was one of those rare people who possess a real interest in the human race. Upon seeing the pictures of my fellow 1960 graduates, Mr. Smyth-Winters became very intrigued by one of them, a girl named Susie Widtfeldt, and sent me on a tour to find her. The following is an account of the experiences I incurred during my travels.

The evening before I left, I was asked out for an evening at the Tranquill theater in New York. There, to my pleasant surprise, I found two of my old friends, Pat Weddell and Donna McCracken. A short conversation with the girls informed me they were enjoying their job of ushering. Pat and Donna told me that Martha Lapaseotes has finally worked her way into the world of fashion. She's the head of the newly formed New York House of Dior.

While still in New York, I visited Ossining, a village of Welchester county and found Kenny Nelson. He had just moved into his new home, Seng Seng. There he finds the privacy he has always wanted. Bill Stuart had just started working there. The judge gave him eighty years.

Arriving in Philadelphia, I found our old friend and football player Doug Mikkleson. Doug now has a job making bubbles for Lawrence Welk. Thanks to Doug, I was able to locate Kenny Jacobs and see his work saving devices.

In Fresno I found Vernon Schluterbusch still clowning in basketball. He's with the Globe Trotters now. John Paris is with the Trotters too. He's the coach.

While taking time out to read a newspaper in Baltimore, I found some news about our old cheerleader, Duane Schneider. Duane is now President of the National Association of Varsity Cheerleaders. His fellow-cheerleader, Corine Vick, has just been named Champion Hogcaller of the West. I also read that Linda Miller has just been elected "Queen of the Beatniks" in Greenwich Village.

Well, look who I ran into in Memphis—Boni Davis! She is conducting a class for "Green Thumb Enthusiasts." She told me that my dear old sis, Xzann Robertson, is conducting a class too—on "How to Drive Your Sister Insane." Boni also told me that Richard Conover is now a college president and that Clif Houk is his head football coach.

I was lucky to find Marjorie Martinez in Atlanta. She has just released the "most-likely-to-succeed" hair style of the year. Judy Franklin was on her way to Paris to model it there.

In Washington I learned that Lanny Lund has recently been appointed to the post of Chief Advisor to the President on World Affairs. Darlene Low works for the President too. She gets paid $14,000 taxpayer's dollars a year for supervising the White House maids.

On a sunny beach in California, I met Diane Riddle. Diane is still majoring in men. Over in Carson City I saw Edris McKillip. Edris is keeping up on her favorite hobby, chasing men. She is trying to keep up with Diane Riddle but just hasn't gotten as far west. They both told me that they are using a Claudia Peterson invention in their conquests—a jet-propelled boy chaser.

I spotted Joel Schuetz up in the air in Denver. He was just completing his latest assignment for Pillsbury—testing a high-altitude cake mix on a 800 foot flag pole.

In Paris, France I saw Ron Wright playing bass for Xavier Cugat. Ron said that the band was making a world-wide tour. He told me that Sharon Smith was at a tourist resort in Canada. There she is a nurse serving all of the tourists.

I found Sharon Williams sitting on a park bench in Omaha in a bright orange dress crying her eyes out. Seems she had tried to get into West Point but couldn't pass the physical. She asked if I had seen Robert Schwartzkopf lately. He's still driving to Bayard frequently, testing cars (?).

While spending a few days in Salt Lake City, I came across Diane Wilcox. She had just signed a contract to play piano for Huckleberry Hound. She told me that Bonnie Claspell is in Kansas City working for Ford Motors as an accountant; she still carries her "20th Century Bookkeeping and Accounting" book with her.

I ran into Pat Eckerman at the airport in Portland. She was just taking off to see the world via Pan American Airlines. She's a stewardess now. She has just come from Hollywood and thus let me in on the exciting news that Shirley Monroe has just defeated Brigedett Bardott for the title role in "Petunia Pig." Also, Judy Bower's role in the Senior Class Play led her to the movies—she goes every night.

While spending the night in the old home town, Bridgeport, I went to visit Bonnie Watson. She was trying to cook supper for her husband and at the same time patiently teach her third child to walk. She told me that I could find Dale Bewley in Lincoln. Arriving there, I found him now the editor of the "Nebraska Farmer" due to his experience on the Bulldog Annual Staff. Jan Fetters was in Lincoln too. She is in a nation wide tour in connection with Home Ec. She demonstrates can openers to young brides.

On a coast along India, I spotted Don Hinman. He was taking a body-building course from the 1929 Mr. America. He told me that Les Gutierrez had just set a new record on the Bridgeport Co-op Bowling League—65. He told me that Dave Musquiz was in Cape Canaveral, shooting rockets and missiles for the government, an outcome of his hobby of shooting guns. Reaching him, Dave told me that he had helped fire a rocket to Mars a few months previously on which Susie had been a passenger. At last news of Susie after the long journey. So off to Mars!

Susie was still the same old Susie. Seems she had become an interior decorator and had gone to Mars to develop a new field. With the million dollars I gave her from Mr. Smyth-Winters, she came back to earth and retired. Mission accomplished, I also came back to earth—but not to retire. I have finally reached my goal of being a successful stenographer.

SENIOR CLASS WILLS

I, Dale Bewley, will my Ford to anyone who is dumb enough to own it and smart enough to keep it running.

I, Judy Bowers, will the ability to have the messiest locker in B.H.S. to Glen Allen Mitchell, who already has a good start at it.

I, Bonnie Claspell, will to Peggy Noonan my skinny legs and all my height to my brothers.

I, Rich Conover, will the peculiar odors of the chemistry lab to my successors and I give, devise, and bequeath my flattop to the Junior girls so they won't have to be constantly combing their hair.

I, Boni Davis, will my ability to get along with Bayard girls to anyone who thinks they can.

I, Pat Eckerman, will nothing to anybody 'cause I want everything for myself.

I, Jan Fetters, will the office of class president to any willing Junior who thinks he can talk over forty other voices.

I, Judy Franklin, will my sleepy yawn to Tom Vassos.

I, Les Guterrez, will to Gene Bigelow the art of making my hair stand up to make me appear taller.

I, Don Hinman, will one of my brain cells to the Biology Class (the other one I am going to keep).

I, Clif Houk, will nothing to nobody because I need everything I got and more.

I, Kenny Jacobs, will my height to Tom Vassos.

I, Martha Lapaseotes, will my ability to chew gum and not get caught in class to my sister, Stacia.

I, Darlene Low, will nothing to anybody 'cause it took everything I had to get through.

I, Lanny Lund, will my seat in American Problems Class to anyone dumb enough to take it.

I, Marjorie Martinez, am taking everything with me.

I, Donna McCracken, will my ability to work for the Vassos Bros. to anyone who thinks they can do as good a job as I have done.

I, Edris McKillip, will my ability to have a perfect attendance to anyone who is dumb enough to go to school that often.

I, Doug Mikkelson, will my weight to the football team next year, they'll need it.

I, Linda Miller, will my megaphone to the most unlucky cheerleader next year.

I, Shirley Monroe, will my height to Sheila Carmichael because she needs it.

I, Dave Muzquiz, will my ability to get A's in citizenship to Daniel Muzquiz.

I, Kenny Nelson, will my ability to haul things for teachers to anyone who drives a pickup.

I, John Paris, will to my sister, Angie Paris, the ability to flirt with the boys as I have with the girls.

I, Claudia Peterson, will to Thelma Hansen the pink and white convertible from Broadwater and all the boys that go in it.

I, Diane Riddle, will to my "little" brothers all the fun I've had in high school. They are too busy swapping fishing and hunting tales to enjoy it.

I, Joan Robertson, will my luck in typing and shorthand to any girl who practices them as hard as I did.

I, Xzann Robertson, will my ability to think up excuses and errands to get out of classes, to Sheila Carmichael.

I, Vernon Schluterbusch, will my ability to stay out of trouble and my old rag convertible top to Gene Bigelow.

I, Duane Schneider, will my ability to control my emotions and to refrain from flirting with the opposite sex to Gerald Batterman.

I, Joel Schuetz, will my ability to be a safe driver to Joyce Iverson (she needs it).

I, Robert Schwartzkopf, will my ability to date seven different girls a week to anyone that likes girls.

I, Sharon Smith, will to Kathy Amateis a cake of yeast so she can rise higher and higher.

I, Bill Stuart, will my membership in the funnel club to Vernon Schluterbusch.

I, Corine Vick, will my weight to the 1960 football team and my height to next year's basketball team.

I, Bonnie Watson, will my quietness inside the classroom to my little sister, Ilene. She needs it.

I, Pat Weddell, will my "etc's" to Mr. Means.

I, Sue Widtfeldt, will my ability to change schools to anyone who thinks they can do it more often.

I, Diane Wilcox, will to my little brother, Rex, an incoming freshman, all the privileges of staying out late that goes with being in high school which he already has.

I, Sharon Williams, will the old blue Ford to my sister, Linda, in case she some day learns to drive.

I, Ron Wright, will my build to Jon Chapin.
